

Preparing for a Career as a Professional Psychologist: What every Doctoral Student Needs to Know

Presented by:
Samuel Knapp, Ed.D.,
Director of Professional Affairs for the Pennsylvania Psychological Association

This presentation will review common issues that graduate students confront as they begin their careers in psychology.

Discussion will include:

- The current state of psychology in Pennsylvania
- Long term trends in income, demographics and professional interests of psychologists
- The role of the Pennsylvania Psychological Association in promoting psychology

Friday, March 26, 2010, 6:00 – 8:00pm

Carlow University, AJ Palumbo Building

Pizza and Pop served at 5:30pm

RSVP to Katanya Cathcart , Department of Psychology and Counseling, Carlow University

412.578.6366 (phone) or kncathcart@carlow.edu

Samuel Knapp, Ed.D – Deputy Executive Officer, Director of Professional Affairs, Pennsylvania Psychological Association, 1987 to date. Dr. Knapp has written or edited 18 books and has contributed chapters to 11 other books. He has also published more than 100 peer reviewed articles published in Ethics and Behavior; Journal of College Student Personnel; Journal of Personality Assessment; Mental Retardation; Professional Psychology: Research and Practice; Psychotherapy: Theory, Research, Practice, Training; Psychotherapy in Private Practice; Temple Law Quarterly; Training and Education in Professional Psychology, and other journals. Dr. Knapp has made more than 250 presentations at meetings of the American Psychological Association, Eastern Psychological Association, Pennsylvania Psychological Association, and other professional organizations and institutions.